

7. [11] Yet within their heart they say
That their houses are for aye,
That their dwelling places grand
Shall for generations stand.

8. To their lands they give their name,
In the hope of lasting fame;
[12] But man's honor quickly flies.
He, like beasts that perish, dies.

9. [13] Though this folly marks their ways,
Though the world their sayings praise,
[14] In the grave like sheep they're laid;
Death their shepherd there is made.

10. O'er them soon shall rule the just,
All their beauty turn to dust;
[15] But from death God will retrieve,
To Himself my soul receive.
