78C PSALM 78:17-33

ELLACOMBE. C.M.D.

12. 26 In heav'n He made the east wind blow;
The south wind felt His hand;
27 So He rained meat on them like dust,
Winged fowl like ocean's sand.
28 He let them fall amid their camp,
By tents on every side.
29 And so they ate till they were filled;
Their greed He satisfied.

13. 30 They craved still more, mouths filled with food;
31 God's wrath then on them fell
And killed their stout ones, and subdued
Choice men of Israel.
32 Yet still they sinned; they disbelieved
His wonders in the way;
33 So in a breath He closed their days,
Their years in deep dismay.
